

Bundelkhand University Jhansi

University Fellowship Scheme in University Campus

For Ph D students

1. Preamble

The Bundelkhand University has decided to promote the research activities among research scholar from its own resources in the campus. The major aim of this scheme is to provide an academic platform to PhD students to carry out conceptual research on some interesting research problem. The PhD course work in the Bundelkhand University is a regular academic program. The admission for PhD work is completed into two ways. The candidates who qualified NET/GATE or other national level examinations are exempted from test. The University also conduct entrance test for PhD admission. Both candidates appear before the RDC and candidates are selected in the various subjects on the basis of Academic Index/Merit. Recently University has decided to provide University Fellowship of Rs 15000/ per month for all those candidates who has taken in the University campus. This is also decided that if candidate enrolment is less than two in the concerned subject the fellowship shall not be given. This is also decided that the students getting fellowship must contribute some hours in teaching and practical classes during their PhD work.

It is realized that University fellowship shall help meritorious PhD students. In both way the quality in research and research activities shall be enhance in multiple times in the campus. The PG and PhD students can work together with the concerned teacher and thus a holistic approach regarding the Research activity shall increase in Bundelkhand University, Jhansi.

Keeping this concept, a proposal was prepared by Director Academics and proposal was discussed in the Deans committee, Finance committee, academic council. The Executive council has approved this proposal and accepted the provision of Rs 50 lakh for promotion of research activities in Bundelkhand University campus from its own resources.
